WHO may, at its discretion, ask any bidder for clarification of any part of its proposal. The request for clarification and the response shall be in writing. No change in price or substance of the proposal shall be sought, offered or permitted during this exchange.

WHO reserves the right at the time of award of contract to extend, reduce or otherwise revise the scope of the work, services and/or goods called for under this RFP without any change in the base price or other terms and conditions offered by the selected bidder.

Annex 1: Detailed Terms of Reference

1. Purpose of the APW

The World Health Organization (WHO) Philippines is looking for an academic contractual partner/institution on the effective coordination and conduct of the Adaptation and Pilot Training of Problem Management Plus (PM+) as Brief Psychological Intervention for Adults with Depression, Anxiety, or Stress under an Agreement for the Performance of Work (APW).

2. Background

Over the past years, efforts are being taken to strengthen the capacity and improve the quality of mental health services at the primary, secondary and tertiary levels of care. This was reinforced by the passing of the Mental Health Act (RA 11036) which, among others, aims to establish a comprehensive, integrated, effective and efficient national mental health care system, protect the rights of people with mental health conditions, and integrate mental health care in the basic health services. As the current direction of improving mental health services is towards further capacitating non-specialized mental health service providers, trainings on Mental Health Gap Action Programme - Intervention Guide 2.0 (mhGAP IG 2.0) for primary care facilities were stepped up, taking different approaches such as virtual, hybrid, and face-to-face trainings.

The mhGAP IG 2.0 prescribes evidence-based interventions on how to manage specific mental health conditions, including pharmacological and psychological interventions. Brief psychological interventions are evidence-based treatment modified to be delivered by non-specialists using self-help materials drawn from psychological treatment principles in the form of self-help books, self-help audio materials, and guided self-help in the form of individual or group program. Problem Management Plus (PM+) is a “low-intensity psychological intervention for adults affected by distress in communities who are exposed to adversity” that applies approaches involving problem management (also known as problem-solving therapy) and selected behavioural strategies. Although the intervention was designed for adults affected by distress in communities exposed to adversity, it was modified in such a way that it can help people with depression, anxiety and stress whether or not adversity has caused these problems (Problem management plus \(PM+\): individual psychological help for adults impaired by distress in communities exposed to adversity \(who.int\)).

To further enhance the mental health services provided in non-specialized settings, the World Health Organization through the Special Initiative for Mental Health supports the Department of Health – Specialty Care Division (Mental Health) augment management of mental health conditions through the introduction of brief psychological intervention Problem Management Plus (PM+).
